

Reid Naaykens

Web Developer

📍 Victoria British Columbia
✉ reidnaaykens@gmail.com
🌐 reidnaa.github.io

Summary

I am a front end web developer that is looking for an opportunity to continue to learn while contributing to a modern development team. I have spend a good year in Wordpress theme development. I am excited to keep learning and bring my steadfast determination and personality to a new role.

Work experience

Wordpress Developer

Feb 2020 - Present

Freelance

- Receive jobs and asses all of the different aspects needed
- Build sites from scratch
- fix and update existing sites
- Build out new feature for specific needs

Web Developer

Feb 2020 - March 2020

Eclipse 360

- Receive new tasks at the company daily meetings
- Build out new features for specific needs
- Update code and plugins for existing sites
- Communicate with account managers to ensure the needs of the client

Web Developer

Oct 2018 - May 2019

Verb Interactive

- Receive daily tasks on a variety of site using Jira and Redmine
- Pull down, push up repos using GIT (Gitlab) or SVN
- Build development sites for testing code changes in Wordpress and Drupal
- Build new features for sites using custom code and platform plugins including ACF Pro
- Update existing features for legacy sites
- Communicate with the Account Managers with specifics of each task

Education

Bootcamp Graduate

Oct 2017 - Dec 2017

Lighthouse Labs

Eight week intensive bootcamp in web development

Course Completed

Oct 2017 - Dec 2017

Udemy.com

I have taken several courses on Udemy.com including - React and Wordpress Theme Development

Other Interests

Photography, collecting records, cleaning beaches on Vancouver Island and Hiking on local trails